

I STRONGLY urge the FCC NOT to weaken the current law protecting consumers from unwanted calls from telemarketers. Calls from financial institutions are no different from any other unsolicited sales calls. They intrude on citizens' privacy and disrupt family life.